An Update From Our Classroom

Week of 5/20-24

Reading

We finished our reading curriculum this week. We practiced our last round of heart words—mother, father, another, through and picture. We read some fun books and did some report card assessments as well.

Writing

We are doing a fun writing project all about first grade. This writing project will be displayed on our hallway bulletin board for the rest of the year and left up for the beginning of next year so incoming first graders can read all about what first grade is like.

Math

This week we used a variety of strategies to add 2 double-digit numbers. We're applying strategies we've learned earlier in the year to add bigger numbers!

Science

The week we learned about why it is different times in various parts of the world. We enjoyed checking out webcams in different states/countries to see LIVE what time it was.

Notes from Room 403:

- Please have your child continue to bring a water bottle and snack next week.
- No school on Monday, it's Memorial Day!
- How is it going to be the last week of school?!?!?
